Hi team – Andrew is still having issues with this new laptop – Adobe crashes, keyboard/mouse lags, no ability to drag/drop into iManage. Can we schedule a time for your team to look at his machine tomorrow?

In the meantime, can you please have your team send over Bluetooth Desktop Computers for us to review? We are going to end up switching him over to one of these so would love to review and select one asap. Thank you!

Hi all,

I wanted to check in on how Andrew's computer has been since I change some of the settings yesterday. Is the laptop screen still flickering?

Hi all,

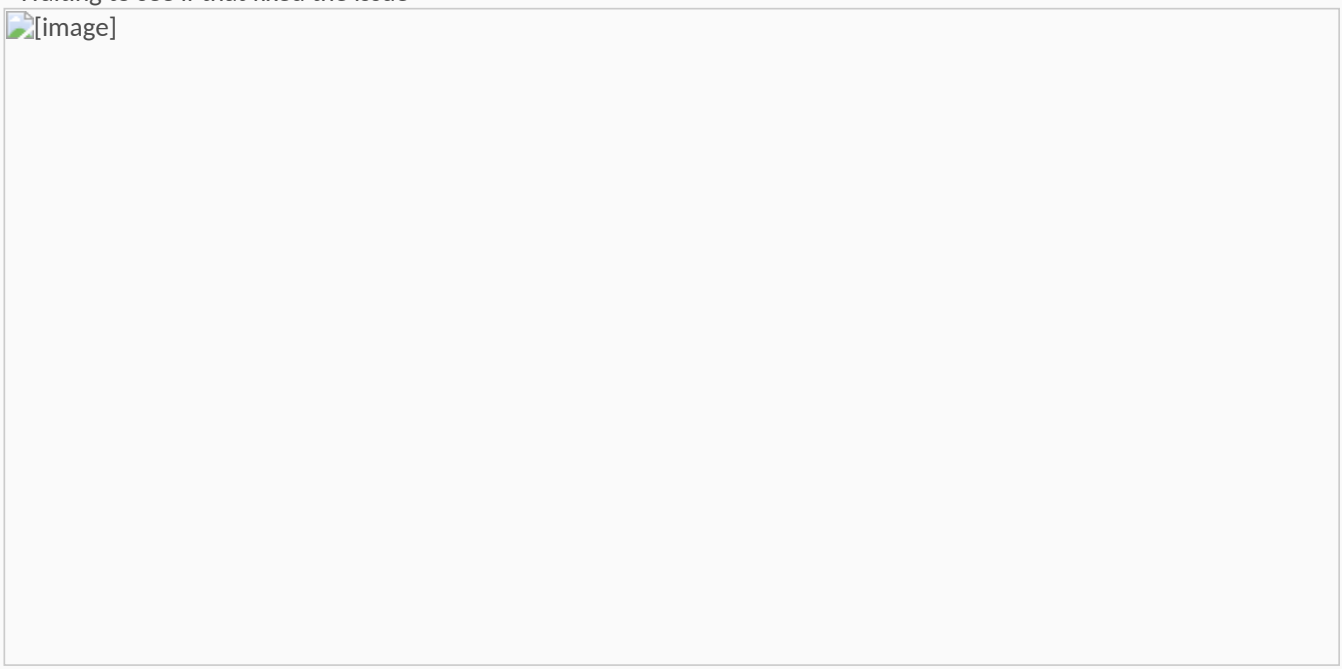

I wanted to check in on how Andrew's computer has been since I change some of the settings yesterday. Is the laptop screen still flickering?

- ran a bios update from the manufacturers website

- Catherine texted me a video of the screen going black and back on, over and over. She says this been happening all morning and not just when restarting and updating
- Did some googling and found this article https://support.lenovo.com/us/en/solutions/ht513743-disable-panel-self-refresh-to-avoid-screen-flickering-thinkpad-x1-carbon-10th-gen-thinkpad-x1-yoga-7th-gen
  - I opened Intel Graphics Command Center and disabled the option for "Panel Self Refresh" and "Display Power Savings"
- Waiting to see if that fixed the issue

- called Catherine and remoted into computer
- ran all available windows updates
- checked for updates in Lenovo Vantage, Catherine had already ran the only available one
- checked imanage for updates and did some troubleshooting of Outlook, everything seemed to be running well
- checked task manager and computer resources were good, nothing taking up too many resources, etc
- ran an office repair
- updated chrome
- waiting for laptop to restart after completing the last windows update

Noted and I will make sure Jeff knows to contact you first. :)
Let me know if you have any other questions or concerns.

Kind regards,
Rachel

Feel free to have the tech connect with me via text first. Andrew isn't in the office yet and I'd have to confirm if 11:15am would work. Thanks, Rachel!

Hi Catherine!

Well... It's possible if someone ends an appointment early? But obviously I cant guarantee that will happen or know for sure. I can assign to the technician and let them know if they wrap up early to call Andrew right away?

Kind regards,
Rachel

Any chance someone can help sooner? His laptop is not recognizing his external monitors and keeps flickering.

Good morning Catherine,

My first available appointment today is at 11:15, would that work for you or Andrew for troubleshooting?

Kind regards,
Rachel
